EXPLANATORY NOTE

There is no denying the scourge illicit drugs have foisted upon our society, and neither is there any denying the audacity with which malefactors, whether under the influence or otherwise, have perpetuated the most perverse and atrocious crimes in the most repugnant of manners.

Our criminal justice system has had to make do with penal laws that are perceived to be less than dissuasive. There is evidently a need to reinvigorate the war against criminality by reviving a proven deterrent coupled by its consistent, persistent, and determined implementation. And this need is as compelling and critical as any.

The imposition of the death penalty for heinous crimes and the mode of its implementation, both subjects of repealed laws, are crucial components of an effective dispensation of both reformatory and retributive justice.

It is, thus, imperative that this Congress, in the exercise of its mandate to take every conceivable step to protect the honor and dignity and the very life of each and every law-abiding Filipino, pass in the most expeditious manner such laws re-imposing the penalty of death for the most abhorrent of offenses and provide for its execution.

For these reasons, the passage of this bill is most urgently sought.
