HOUSE BILL NO. 34

Introduced by: REP. RAUL V. DEL MAR

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to institutionalize the free breakfast program of the Department of Education (DepEd) for day care center, preschool and elementary school children in all public schools in the country. The free breakfast program shall consist of fortified instant noodles or iron-fortified rice or fortified biscuits or any other fortified form to address hunger primarily and malnutrition secondarily. Unlike in the past where it is implemented only for a limited duration and areas for public schools classified as low performing schools or public schools with high prevalence of malnutrition, it shall be implemented in all public schools throughout the whole country since almost all school children enrolled therein come from poor families and suffer from undernourishment and malnourishment affecting their capacity to attain and maintain average academic performance. These children coming to school with practically no breakfast from home cannot be expected to absorb their lessons in school while suffering hunger pangs.

The Department of Education (DepEd) and the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) implemented an immediate intervention to address hunger among families through their children enrolled in DepEd supervised public day care centers, preschools and elementary schools in the form of food subsidy for young learners who belong to poor families. A daily ration of one (1) kilo of rice is given to that family of a child for a specific period of time as long as the child goes to school or to the day care center every day.

In terms of malnutrition, the Philippine government is committed to the global call to eradicate malnutrition as stated in the World Declaration on Nutrition and Global Plan of Action for Nutrition adopted during the International Conference on Nutrition (ICN) in Rome, Italy on December 1992. This commitment is operationalized with the birth of the Philippine Plan of Action for Nutrition (PPAN) within the context of current development efforts enunciated in the Medium-Term Philippine Development Plan.

PPAN serve as the springboard or the country's plan for the Philippine government's goal to decrease the prevalence of malnutrition in the country. It integrates the efforts of the national government, local government units (LGU's), nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) including community-based NGOs, the business sector, and the international community in assisting target beneficiaries.

PPAN aims to achieve nutrition for all Filipinos and will contribute to the achievement of the Millennium Development Goals on eradicating extreme poverty and hunger.

There is therefore an urgent need to fine-tune these program of the DepEd and enhance the same by providing a free breakfast program not only to day care centers, preschools but also all public elementary schools in the country.

Hence, approval of the above-mentioned bill is earnestly sought.
