EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to exempt electricity produced and sold by power generation companies in Mindanao from value-added tax, amending for the purpose Republic Act no. 8424, otherwise known as the "Tax Reform Act of 1997," as amended.

Value-added tax or VAT is a tax on consumption levied on the sale or lease of goods, properties or services in the Philippines. VAT is an indirect tax which may be passed on to the buyer or lessee and, as such, a burden shouldered by the end consumer.

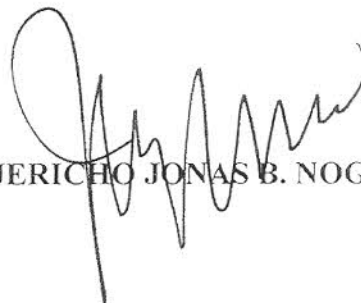

The current power crisis in Mindanao is a bane for people in the region as the situation substantially lessens their productivity and earning capacity. In times of unabated price increases of fuel, food and other commodities, it is the duty of Congress to provide economic relief to the people. Removing VAT on electricity is one of the most viable options for Congress to act on and provide immediate economic relief for all households in Mindanao.

Whatever revenue losses that might be suffered by the government will not only be offset by the increased purchasing power for all households in Mindanao but will also allow cheaper production costs, redounding to a more robust and equitable economy.

The passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
