EXPLANATORY NOTE

The first few years of life are crucial for the development and education of children. While the primary responsibility for the care and well-being of children falls to their parents and family, a task as important and difficult as raising a child at times requires outside assistance. In order to provide that assistance, the State has mandated the establishment and provision of Day Care Centers in Republic Act Nos. 6972 and 10410. This bill, based on the Joint Committee Report No. 988 of the Committee on the Welfare of Children and Committee on Appropriations last 16th Congress, with a revision on the qualifications of the day care worker, seeks to further buttress these centers by providing a magna carta for Day Care Center Workers.
