EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bills seeks to prohibit the issuance of temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or preliminary mandatory injunction against administrative officials or bodies in the enforcement of environmental laws, rules, and regulations, and in the issuance, approval or disapproval, revocation or suspension of concessions, licenses, permits, patents, or public grants of any kind in connection with the disposition, exploitation, utilization, exploration, and/or development of the natural resources of the Philippines

Needless to state, the protection and preservation of the environment for the present and future generation is of the highest national interest and paramount concern of the State which shall always take precedence over and above private rights and interest. Indeed, the exploitation and wanton destruction of our natural resources have deleterious consequences.

The practice of issuing temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or preliminary mandatory injunction against the enforcement of environmental laws and other governmental actions creates an opportunity to exploit the environment and natural resources which in the long run, impedes the economic development.

Furthermore, such issuance deters the State, and its administrative bodies, from exercising their mandate to protect the environmental and natural resources. in favor of individuals seeking the protection of their private interests in the courts.

The law recognizes the principle that courts should defer to the technical expertise of administrative agencies. Unless, the issue involves a regulation or action that exceeds the jurisdiction of the administrative agency, judicial review is proscribed.

In light of all these circumstances, the swift passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
