EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to augment the basic salary of public school teachers to Thirty Thousand Pesos (P30,000). Public school teachers in the Philippines are assigned a salary grade way below their worth and their contribution to national development. They mold the youth into future leaders that fuel the nation's progress. The extent and complexity of their work is inenarrable. Their profession entails a lot of sacrifice and self-denial. It takes a lot of patience and hard work to be a teacher. The effort they put in just dealing with so many kinds of individuals and putting up with so many unique behaviours cannot be gainsaid. Teachers' work is not confined within the four walls of the classroom. For the most part, they carry on their work up to their homes in order to clinch the documentary assessment of their students. They also contend with the administrative aspect of the profession. Teachers give more of themselves than is objectively called for.

Even as the Constitution provides for the "highest budgetary priority to education and the guarantee that teaching will attract and retain its rightful share of the best available talents through adequate remuneration and other means of job satisfaction and fulfillment," our public school teachers, in reality, are underpaid and undervalued.

With the ever-growing challenges that face our public school teachers, it is only fitting to accord them the salary increase they rightfully deserve.

The immediate passage of this measure is sought for.
