CREATING THE DEPARTMENT OF OVERSEAS FILIPINO WORKERS (OFW) AND FOREIGN EMPLOYMENT, DEFINING ITS POWERS AND FUNCTIONS, APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR, RATIONALIZING THE ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS OF GOVERNMENT AGENCIES RELATED TO MIGRATION, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

We, the sovereign Filipino people, imploring the aid of Almighty God, in order to build a just and humane society, and establish a Government that shall embody our ideals and aspirations, promote the common good, conserve and develop our patrimony, and secure to ourselves and our posterity, the blessings of independence and democracy under the rule of law and a regime of truth, justice, freedom, love, equality, and peace, do ordain and promulgate this Constitution.

Preamble, 1987 Philippine Constitution

The Filipino is no slave to anyone, anywhere and everywhere. Every abuse against an OFW is an affront against us, as a sovereign nation.
All that I ask for our overseas Filipino workers, is that their dignity is honored and the rights of a human being, upheld and respected.

President Rodrigo Roa Duterte

In a just and humane society, we must not forget our fellow Filipinos who are making ends meet for the betterment of their families and loved ones outside the Philippine soil. No less than the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly, and Regular Migration (GCM) which the Philippines adopted in December 2018 recognizes “that safe, orderly and regular migration works for all when it takes place in a well-informed, planned and consensual manner.”¹ Migration should never be an act of desperation but a choice.

In cases when migration is a result of desperation or due to trafficking, the State must respond to the needs of our Overseas Filipino Workers (OFW) in situations of vulnerability and address the respective challenges. The whole of government must work together to attend to the needs of all our nationals in distress.

OFWs are called “modern-day heroes,” feted for the remittances they send every year that in 2018 alone, OFW’s personal remittances accounted for 9.7% of gross domestic product (GDP) and cash remittances from overseas Filipinos have amounted to USD 28.943 billion. This is in addition to remittances in kind or in the form of investments that migrant Filipino workers send here in the country. Every day, our airports are teeming with migrant workers on their way out of the country, each one a mother or a father, a son or a daughter, now reduced to a statistic in a seemingly endless and relentless diaspora.

The term “modern-day heroes” obscures the realities that form the lives of our OFWs. Driven to work overseas usually due to lack of opportunities at home, they just become statistics – household service workers shuffling around the high rise residential condominiums of Hong Kong and Singapore or cleaning villas in the Middle East; construction workers pouring concrete that will eventually become the gleaming skyscrapers in Dubai’s skyline; nurses with medical degrees from home manning elderly care facilities in Chicago or caregivers in Israel. Many people find their fortune abroad, while some storylines are harsher than others. But a common narrative of sacrifice, commitment and too many times, suffering, runs through their stories.

Carla finished a nursing course in Davao and works as a nurse in Tripoli, Libya. She survived the 2011 and 2014 armed conflict in Libya and is now again facing another one. In April, when the forces of Haftar began their military campaign towards Tripoli, and carried out mortar fire attacks in strategic places in the city, her employer told her she could go home if she wanted to. She thought of her daughters of school age and her husband who has been jobless since Typhoon Pablo ravaged banana plantations in Compostela Valley and decided to stay on.

Dante works as a construction worker in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia standing on scaffolds under the punishing heat of the Middle Eastern sun. Riyadh is a gleaming capital with towering edifices, mostly built from the ground up by Alvin and people like him. After work, however, he goes home to a 23 square meter room that he shares with six other people. It is the best he can do. He has yet to pay the debts incurred when he first came here and there are more debts to be paid at home. Some 3 ½ years ago, his construction firm closed down after working there for 20 years. He stays on in Saudi with an expired iqama, doing odd jobs hoping against hope that he will recover his one year unpaid salaries and end of service benefits.

Dina waits excitedly all week for Sunday, the day she meets her “family” at the Filipino Christian Charismatic church she attends in Hong Kong. This is the only family she knows now. Her husband in the Philippines has left her for a younger neighbor, spiriting away their children. She has tried to search for them when she returned a few months ago, only to be told that she has been gone too long, taking care of other children too long.
Joanna in 2014 left her home in Iloilo to work as a domestic worker in Kuwait. In February 2018, Kuwaiti authorities found her body in the freezer of an abandoned apartment belonging to a couple who hired her. There was evidence that she was strangled and tortured then placed inside the freezer to die.

These are but four of an estimated 10.4 million Overseas Filipinos, a number that only continues to rise.\(^2\) Driven by lack of opportunities in the Philippines, they cast their lot in other countries, mostly as laborers and unskilled workers.

DFA reports that the Americas remains as the top region of destination for Filipinos with 4,987,169 OFWs, 48.75\% of all our migrant workers. The United States continues to be the number one country of destination where approximately 4,037,564 OFWs dwell comprising 39.47\% of all Filipino migrant workers. Second to the Americas is the Asia Pacific region with 2,437,841 OFWs translating to 23.83\% of all Filipino migrant workers. About one in every five OFWs work in the Middle East with 2,184,511 representing 21.4\% of all our migrant workers. While Europe hosts 588,684 OFWs or 5.75\% of all Filipino migrants, Africa only has 31,350 or .031\% of all OFWs.\(^3\)

Although there are many success stories in migration, there are still exceptions that do not fail to shock the Filipino nation. Some of our unfortunate migrants suffer abuse at the hands of their employers or illegal recruiters, living in oppressive work conditions just so that they can send their children to school or support ailing parents.

Despite the existence of agencies to protect migrant Filipinos, the numerous problems and challenges confronting OFWs and their families such as trafficking in persons, illegal recruitment, employer abuse, delayed or unpaid salaries, inadequate benefits, inefficient and ineffective delivery of services to OFWs, and the lack of representation of the interests of OFWs in the agencies that are supposed to protect and promote still persist. Moreover, the social costs of human migration cannot be overlooked. In a study by Ma. Lourdes Carandang (2012) on children of overseas domestic workers, it was found that these “motherless” children have a greater likelihood of growing up psychologically troubled and facing academic difficulties.\(^4\)

Currently, there are five (5) major agencies that have mandates relative to overseas employment, namely the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), the Philippine Overseas Employment Administration (POEA), the Overseas Workers Welfare Administration (OWWA), the Commission on Filipinos Overseas (CFO), and the Office of the Undersecretary for Migrant Workers’ Affairs.

\(^2\) Report to Congress of the Office of the Undersecretary for Migrant Workers’ Affairs, Department of Foreign Affairs, June-December 2018.

(OUMWA) of the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA). However, the absence of a single agency to address foreign employment concerns has made it difficult for the government to focus on the needs and demands of migration in general and of OFWs in particular. Oftentimes, help is delayed because the OFWs and the next of kin are confused which agency to approach and sometimes there is a conflict or overlapping jurisdiction. There are also instances when there is a conflict of policy pronouncements and handling of cases between the agencies. Hence, there is a pressing need to have a one-stop shop for OFWs to make life more comfortable for them. There is an urgency to prioritize the creation of an agency that would manage, harmonize, and strengthen existing policies and programs on migration to address the needs of OFWs.

On December 19, 2018, the Philippines adopted the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) which is an inter-governmentally negotiated agreement that has 23 objectives for the protection and promotion of the rights of migrant workers. The creation of the Department of Overseas Filipino Workers and Foreign Employment will then expedite the fulfilment of the objectives of the GCM.

In light of the foregoing, it is hereby proposed that a Department of Overseas Filipino Workers and Foreign Employment be established to serve as the umbrella agency to specifically address all the issues and concerns of OFWs as well as their families to afford them full protection, promote their full and just employment, mitigate the social costs back home, and serve as a channel to address OFW issues and grievances. Moreover, the creation of this department will ensure that help and assistance will be given to this sector is fast, responsive, efficient, and adequate.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.

AN ACT
CREATING THE DEPARTMENT OF OVERSEAS FILIPINO WORKERS (OFW) AND FOREIGN EMPLOYMENT, DEFINING ITS POWERS AND FUNCTIONS, APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR, RATIONALIZING THE ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS OF GOVERNMENT AGENCIES RELATED TO MIGRATION, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Philippines in Congress assembled:

CHAPTER I
GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Short Title. - This Act shall be known as the "Department of OFW Act of 2019."

SECTION 2. Declaration of Policies. -

a. While recognizing the significant contribution of Filipino migrant workers and overseas Filipinos to the national economy through their foreign exchange remittances and investments, the State does not promote overseas employment as a means to sustain economic growth and achieve national development. The existence of the overseas employment program rests solely on the assurance that the dignity and fundamental human rights and freedoms of the Filipino citizens shall not, at any time, be compromised or violated. The State, therefore, shall continuously create local employment opportunities and promote the equitable distribution of wealth and the benefits of development. Toward this end, the State shall continually aim to make migration a choice and not a necessity for every Filipino worker;

b. In the pursuit of an independent foreign policy and while considering national sovereignty, territorial integrity, national interest, and the right to self-determination paramount in its relations with other states, the State shall, at all times, uphold the dignity of its citizens, whether in country or overseas, in general, and Filipino migrant workers, in particular, continuously monitor international conventions, adopt/be signatory to and ratify those that guarantee protection to our migrant workers, and endeavor to enter into bilateral agreements with countries hosting overseas Filipino workers;

c. The State shall afford full protection to OFWs, promote full employment, ensure equal work opportunities regardless of sex, gender, race, creed or religion, regulate the relations between OFWs and their employers, and promote their welfare and well-being at all times. The State shall protect the rights of the workers to security of tenure, and just and humane conditions of work. Towards this end, the State shall provide adequate and timely social, economic, and legal services to OFWs;

d. The State affirms the fundamental equality before the law of women and men and the significant role of women in nation building. Recognizing the contribution of overseas migrant women workers and their particular vulnerabilities, the State shall apply gender sensitive criteria in the formulation and implementation of policies and programs affecting migrant workers and the composition of bodies tasked for the welfare of migrant workers;

e. Free access to the courts and quasi-judicial bodies and adequate legal assistance shall not be denied to any person by reason of poverty. In this regard, it is imperative that an effective mechanism be instituted to ensure that the rights and interests of distressed overseas Filipinos, in general, and Filipino migrant workers, in particular, whether regular/documented or irregular/undocumented, are adequately protected and safeguarded;

f. The right of Filipino migrant workers and of all overseas Filipinos to participate in the democratic decision-making processes of the State and to be represented in institutions relevant to overseas employment is recognized and guaranteed;

g. The State recognizes non-governmental organizations, trade unions, workers associations, business organizations and other stakeholders duly recognized as legitimate, as partners of the State in the protection of Filipino migrant workers and in the promotion of their welfare. The State shall cooperate with them in a spirit of trust and mutual respect. The significant contribution of recruitment and manning agencies shall form part of this partnership;

h. The State shall protect every citizen desiring to work locally or overseas by securing for him or her the best possible terms and conditions of employment. The State shall endeavor to facilitate a free choice of available employment by persons seeking work and regulate the movement of workers in conformity with the national interest;

i. The State further affirms that the Filipino family, as a basic autonomous social institution, is the foundation of the nation. Accordingly, the solidarity of the families of OFWs shall be strengthened and their total development shall be actively promoted;

j. The State recognizes that the most effective tool for empowerment and protection of rights of Filipino migrant workers is their possession of appropriate skills. The government shall expand skills development and enhancement programs of the concerned agencies and shall facilitate access of overseas Filipino workers to these programs through scholarships and/or training subsidies/grants. Pursuant to this, the government shall consider to deploy and/or allow the deployment only of skilled and semi-skilled Filipino workers five (5) years from the enactment of this law. Thereafter, only Balik Manggagawa unskilled workers will be allowed to return to their former employers. The State shall also pursue bilateral, regional and multilateral agreements on skills qualification, certification and matching; and

k. The State shall endeavor to fulfill its commitment in the fulfillment of the 23 objectives of the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM).
