HOUSE BILL NO. 22

Introduced by REP. EVELINA G. ESCUDERO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Barangay Health Workers (BHWs) are at the forefront of promoting and rendering government primary health care services to the Filipino people, yet there are only 207,392 BHWs who are currently in service to date. Meanwhile, the Department of Health Bureau of Local Health Development acknowledges that 802,422 BHWs\(^1\) are still needed for the government to effectively deliver a grassroots participatory health care program through its Primary Health Care Approach.

In order to entice more BHWs recruits, this bill seeks to strengthen and improve BHWs' incentives by affording them security of tenure after their accreditation as BHWs and granting them second grade civil service eligibility after two years of satisfactory service.

This bill shall definitely benefit the government primary health program since its primary enforcers the BHWs, protected by the security of tenure, are depoliticized and are no longer are at the whim and mercy of government officials who retain or terminate their services depending on their political allegiance.

Consequently, the immediate consideration and passage of this bill is sought.
