HOUSE BILL NO. 194

Introduced by Hon. Estrellita B. Suansing

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to convert the Municipality of Talavera into a component city of the Province of Nueva Ecija to be known as the City of Talavera.

The Municipality of Talavera is a first class urban municipality in the Province of Nueva Ecija with a population of 124,829 as of the 2015 Philippine census. It ranks as the third largest among the cities and municipalities in the Province of the Nueva Ecija and is considered to be largest non-city Local Government Unit in the Province of Nueva Ecija.

It is composed of fifty-three (53) barangays with a total land area of 14,255.54 hectares or about 2.49% of the land area of the Province of Nueva Ecija. It is located in the heart of the Province of Nueva Ecija bordered by Cabanatuan City, the Science City of Muñoz and the Municipalities of Aliaga, Llanera, General Mamerto Natividad and Sto. Domingo. Talavera's economy is highly focused on agriculture with palay, onion and calamansi as main crops.

Aside from agriculture, the Municipality of Talavera has also demonstrated its robust economic viability, efficient administration and capability to deliver adequate public services to its constituents. The economic viability of the Municipality of Talavera and its potential to become one of the fastest growing local government units in the Province of Nueva Ecija is reflected in its outstanding economic transformations. The sudden influx of big business establishments in the municipality clearly attests to the continuing economic growth of the Municipality of Talavera. It has given opportunities and opened the avenues for business establishments to succeed and flourish. For the first quarter of 2019 alone, it has already generated an estimated income of P56,770,574.82 million pesos.

The capability of the Municipality of Talavera to provide basic but essential public services to its constituents is manifested in its unwavering commitment to various programs that range from health care services to infrastructure development. It is home for example to Talavera General Hospital and several Rural Health Units equitably distributed among its 53 barangays, aside from its two (2) birthing stations and animal bite center.

In addition, as of the first quarter of 2019, the local government of Talavera has initiated at least a total of ninety (90) projects based on its post qualification evaluation reports. The current projects range from infrastructure development to health services.

An equally important fact is the municipality’s efficient administration. It has been awarded the Seal of Good Housekeeping for three (3) consecutive years, the commencement of which was in 2015. This award reflects the outstanding commitment of its leaders to uphold the ideals enshrined in the Constitution of the republic as effective partners of the State in sharing and carrying out the national burden of achieving the national goals and interests.

The Municipality of Talavera is also a haven of scholarly pursuits. It governs and manages for example the Nueva Ecija University of Science and Technology (NEUST-MGT) located in Talavera, Nueva Ecija, aside from three private colleges in the municipality such as those of REH Montessori College, Inc., La Fortuna College and St. Elizabeth Global College. It has likewise sustained the existence of five (5) national high schools and four (4) private high schools.

The conversion of the Municipality of Talavera into a component city of the Province of Nueva Ecija will essentially enhance its potential and capability to attract, not only agro-industrial interests but also better economic investments in the locality, which will further propel economic growth and development.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is earnestly requested.
