EXPLANATORY NOTE

The bill intends to amend Republic Act No. 8179, or the Foreign Investments Act of 1991, to delete the “practice of professions” from the items listed in the Foreign Investment Negative List. It also intends to lower the employment threshold to 15 for small and medium-sized enterprises established by foreign investors with minimum paid up capital of $100,000.

According to data from the World Bank, the Philippines’ Foreign Direct Investments (FDI) accumulation for 2015-2017 was a mere $24 billion, lower than our ASEAN neighbors which range from $32 to $200 billion. The amendments to the Foreign Investments Act show the country’s openness to change and willingness to live up to our economic potential by reeling in more foreign investments. It hopes to facilitate transfer of technologies by attracting Foreign Direct Investments and further hopes to make the Philippines more accessible to foreign investors and generate more employment opportunities in the country.

The approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
