EXPLANATORY NOTE

"Public office is a public trust." This is the very principle declared in our Constitution that should embody each public officer and each government employee. As public servants, we are entrusted with power but endowed with the responsibility to be accountable at all times to the people whom we owe our very title and position. Further, as a State Principle, it is with the people whom our sovereignty resides and thus all government authority emanates from them. Clearly, the people are our boss – and we are answerable to them.

Pursuant to these, the right of the people to information held by government should not only be recognized but should be accessible through the adoption and implementation of a policy of full public disclosure of all its transactions. The people’s access to information held by government is necessary in the exercise of the people’s right to effective and reasonable participation at all levels of decision-making affecting our nation.

The scandals of corruption in government have shaken our nation and pushed the people back to the streets. These issues have made our people cry out their sentiments, anger, and unprecedented opinion against our government. I call on my fellow legislators to respond to the apprehension of the people in the proper disbursement of public funds through institutionalizing transparent mechanisms. Hence, enabling the people to exercise their right to information will assure a vigilant public against unscrupulous government officials from committing atrocity against integrity of our nation. Moreover, this will stand as a staunch reminder to all government officials and employees of their duty to the people as well as the obligation to always act to the benefit of the people. President Duterte has declared a war against corruption, and the enactment of the FOI Bill is a needed step in this battle. I thank the countless legislators and their staff whose contributions to the FOI debate over the years make this present version of the FOI possible.

If we want to get serious in our fight against corruption, it is about time to bring this bill into law.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Quezon City

EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 644

Introduced by HON. JOY MYRA S. TAMBUNTING

AN ACT TO STRENGTHEN THE PEOPLE'S RIGHT TO INFORMATION

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Philippines in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. Short Title. — This Act shall be known as the Peoples Freedom of Information Act of 2019.”

SECTION 2. Declaration of Policy. — The State recognizes the right of the people to information on matters of public concern and adopts and implements a policy of all its transactions involving public interest, subject to the procedures and limitations provide by this Act. This right is meant to enhance the significant and widening role of the citizenry in the decision-making process of government as well as in checking abuse in government.

Public officials and employees, in the performance of their duties under this Act, as well as citizens in the exercise of their rights under this Act, shall act with justice, give everyone his or her due, and observe honesty and good faith. Public officials and employees as well as citizens shall endeavor to handle information kept or obtained under this act with due care, to the end that inaccuracies and distortions are avoided.

SECTION 3. Coverage. — This Act shall cover all government agencies. Government agency or agencies shall include the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of government as well as constitutional bodies of the Philippines including, but not limited to, the national government and all its agencies, departments, bureaus, offices, and instrumentalities, constitutional commissions and constitutionally-mandated bodies, local governments and all their attached agencies and offices, regulatory agencies, government-owned or controlled corporations, including wholly-owned or controlled subsidiaries, chartered institutions, government financial institutions, state universities and colleges, the armed Forces of the Philippines, the Philippine National Police, all offices in the Congress of the Philippines including the offices of Senators and Representatives, the Supreme Court, and all other lower courts as established by law. Public service contractors or any other entity shall make their records available to the public as long as they are related to any contract or transactions that they have with the government or government agencies, Provided, that such contracts or transactions are of the highest public interest by reason of the amounts involved and the impact of the transaction to the public.
SECTION 4. Definition of Terms. – As used in this Act:

(a) “Information” shall mean any record, document, paper, report, letter, contract, minutes, transcript, map, book, photograph, film, sound and video recording, magnetic or other tape, electronic data, computer stored data, or any other like or similar material recorded, stored or archived in whatever form or format, which: (i) are made or received by, or kept under the control or custody of, any government agency pursuant to law, executive order, rules and regulations, ordinance, or in connection with the performance or transaction of official business by any government agency or official; (ii) are part of official or public records in the custody of government agencies or officials; (iii) record, evidence, establish, confirm, support, justify, or explain official acts, transactions or decisions of government agencies or officials; or (iv) are part of research date, whether raw, collated or processed, in the custody of the government and used in formulating government policies;

(b) “Government agency” shall include the executive, legislative and judicial branches as well as the constitutional bodies of the Republic of the Philippines including, but not limited to, the national government and all its agencies, departments, bureaus, offices and instrumentalities, constitutional commissions and constitutionally mandated bodies, local governments and all their agencies, regulatory agencies, chartered institutions, government-owned or controlled corporations, including wholly-owned or controlled subsidiaries, government financial institutions, state universities and colleges, the Armed Forces of the Philippines, the Philippine National Police, all offices in the Congress of the Philippines including the offices of Senators and Representatives, the Supreme Court and all lower courts by law.

(c) “Official record/s” refers to information produced or received by a public officer or employee, or by a government agency, in an official capacity or pursuant to a public function or duty. This shall not refer to the stage or status of the information.

(d) “Public record/s” include information required by law, executive orders, rules, or regulations to be entered, kept and made publicly available by a government agency.

SECTION 5. Access to Information. – Every person who is Filipino citizen has a right to and shall, on request, be given access to any information under the control of a government agency, regardless of the physical form or format in which these are contained, subject only to the exceptions enumerated under section 7 of this Act.

SECTION 6. Presumption. – There shall be a legal presumption in favor of access to information. Accordingly, government agencies shall have the burden of proving that the information requested is exempted from disclosure by this Act.

SECTION 7. Exceptions. – Access to information shall be granted unless:

(a) The information is specifically authorized to be kept Secret under guidelines established by an Executive Order, and in fact properly classified pursuant thereto: Provided, that: (1) the information directly relates to national security or defense and its revelation will cause serious damage to the national security or internal and/or external defense of the State; or (2) The information requested pertains to the foreign affairs of the Republic of the Philippines, when its revelation will unduly weaken the negotiating position of the government in an ongoing or proposed bilateral or multilateral negotiation or seriously jeopardize the diplomatic relations of the Philippines with one or more states: Provided, that sufficient information is disclosed to afford reasonable public participation in government decision-making on bilateral and multilateral agreements. The Executive Order shall specify the reasonable period after which the information shall be automatically declassified or be subject to mandatory declassification review. Any reasonable doubt as to classification and declassification shall be settled in favor of the right to information.

(b) The information consists of minutes or records of advice given or opinions expressed during decision-making or policy formulation, invoked by the Chief Executive to be privileged by reason of the impairment of the Chief Executive’s presidential communications privilege that would result from the disclosure thereof: Provided, that an Executive Order shall be issued specifying the reasonable period after which information invoked to be privileged under this paragraph shall be made accessible to the public.

(c) The information requested pertains to internal and/or external defense and law enforcement, when the disclosure thereof would:

(i) Compromise or interfere with any legitimate military or law enforcement operation;
(ii) Compromise or interfere with the prevention, detection or suppression of criminal activity or the effective implementation of immigration controls and borders security;
(iii) Disclose the identity of a confidential source, including a government, foreign agency or authority, or private institution which furnished information on a confidential basis, or in the case of information compiled by a law enforcement authority in the course of an investigation or by agency conducting a lawful national security intelligence investigation, disclose the information furnished by a confidential source;
(iv) Disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law; or
(v) Endanger the life or physical safety of any individual.

(d) The information requested consists of drafts of orders, resolutions, or decisions by any executive, administrative, regulatory, constitutional, judicial or quasi-judicial body in the exercise of their adjudicatory function, the revelation of which would impair the impartiality of verdicts, or otherwise obstruct the administration of justice.

(e) The information requested is obtained by either House of Congress, or any committee thereof, in executive session whenever the information falls under any of the exceptions provided in this section.
(f) The information requested pertains to the personal information of a natural person other than the requesting party, and its disclosure would clearly constitute an unwarranted invasion of his or her personal privacy, unless it forms part of a public record, or the person is or was an official of a government agency and the information relates to his or her public function or the person has consented in writing to the disclosure of the information.

(g) The information requested pertains to trade, industrial, financial or commercial secrets of a natural or judicial person other than the requesting party, obtained in confidence by, or filed with a government agency, whenever the revelation thereof would seriously prejudice the interests of such natural or juridical person in trade, industrial, financial or commercial competition.

(h) The information is classified as privileged communications in legal proceedings by law or by the Rules of Court.

(i) The Information requested is exempted by law or the Constitution, in addition to those provided in this section.

(j) The information is of a nature that its premature disclosure would seriously undermine the effectiveness of an intended action by a government agency: Provided, that the information shall be accessible once the anticipated danger has ceased.

(k) The information is requested by a person whose request for an identical or substantially similar information has recently been complied with, and no meritorious reason is given to justify a repeat of the request: Provided, that this exception applies exclusively to the person making the repeated request. Provided, that:

(1) The exceptions set forth in this section shall be strictly construed;
(2) Exceptions cannot be invoked to cover-up a crime, wrongdoing, graft, or corruption;
(3) Whenever the information covered by an exception may be reasonably severed from a record, the part not covered by the exception shall be disclosed to the requester;
(4) The President, the Supreme Court, the Senate, the House of Representatives, and the Constitutional Commissions may waive an exception with respect to information in the custody of offices under their respective supervision or control, when they deem that there is a compelling or overriding public interest in disclosure; and
(5) In the exercise of the judicial power to interpret the Constitution, the exceptions set forth in this section may be overcome if the requester is able to prove before a court of competent jurisdiction that there is a compelling public interest or need that outweighs the interest in keeping the information secret or confidential.
For letters (c) to (k) of this section, the determination whenever any of these grounds shall apply shall be the responsibility of the head of office of the government agency in custody or control of the information, or of a responsible central or field officer duly designated by him.

SECTION 8. Keeping of Record. – (a) Government agencies shall create and/or maintain in appropriate formats, accurate and reasonably complete documentation or official records of their organization, policies, transactions, decisions, resolutions, enactments, actions, procedures, operations, activities, communications and documents received or filed with them and data generated or collected. These shall include working documents such as drafts or notes, whenever these have been circulated within the agency for official purpose such as for discussion, comment or approval or when these contain unique information that can substantially contribute to a proper understanding of the agency organization, policies, transactions, decisions, resolutions, enactment, actions, procedures, operations, and activities.

(b) Government agencies shall identify specific and classes of information in their custody or control that have continuing historical, administrative, informational, legal, evidentiary, or research value for preservation by such agencies, or for transfer to the National Archives of the Philippines. In addition, the National Archives of the Philippines shall likewise identify specific and classes of information that it shall require agencies to preserve and transfer to it.

(c) In addition to the specific and classes of official records identified for preservation under letter (b) of this section, the following shall not be destroyed:
   (1) Records of loans obtained or guaranteed by the government;
   (2) Records of government contracts; and
   (3) The declaration under oath of the assets, liabilities and net worth of public officers and employees, as required by law

(d) Government agencies shall prepare, following standards and period promulgated pursuant to Republic Act No. 9470 or the National Archives of the Philippines Act of 2007, a records management program that includes the following:
   (1) A records maintenance system for the creation, selection, classification, indexing and filing of information that facilitates the easy identification, retrieval and communication of information to the public; and
   (2) A records maintenance, archival and disposition schedule providing a listing of information under current use, for retention by the agency, for transfer to the National Archives, or for destruction: Provided, that destruction of information may be implemented only upon approval of the National Archives of the Philippines.

(e) In addition to its function as repository of all and regulations issued by agencies as provided under Book VII, Chapter II of the Administrative Code of 1987, the University of the Philippines Law Center shall, in coordination with the office of the President which has exclusive editorial and printing jurisdiction over the Official Gazette, and with other relevant agencies, maintain a database, and publish the same in print on Official Gazette or in digital or online form, the following:
(1) All laws of the Philippines and their amendments, form the period of the Philippine Commission to the present;
(2) All presidential issuances form November 15, 1935 to the present, including but not limited to, executive orders, presidential proclamations, administrative orders, memorandum circulars, general orders, and other similar issuances;
(3) A database of all appointments and designations made by the President of the Philippines; and
(4) Opinions of the Secretary of Justice.

SECTION 9. Procedure of Access. — (a) Any person who wishes to obtain information shall submit, free of charge, a request to the government agency concerned personally, by mail, or through electronic means. A person who is unable, because of illiteracy or disability, make a written request may make an oral request, and the public official who receives the oral request shall reduce it to writing and give a copy thereof to the person who made the request.

The request shall state the name and contact information of the requesting party, a reasonable description of the information requested, and reason for the request: Provided, that the stated reason cannot be used as a ground to deny the request or to refuse the acceptance of the request, unless such reason is contrary to law. If the request is submitted personally, the requesting party shall show his current identification card issued by any government agency, or government or private employer or school, or other reasonable means of identification. If the request is submitted by mail or through electronic means, the requesting party may submit a photo static or electronically scanned copy of the identification, or other convenient means as determined by the agency.

(b) The public official receiving the request shall provide reasonable assistance, free of charge, to enable all requesters and particularly those with special needs, to comply with the request requirements under this section.

(c) The request shall be stamped by the government agency, indicating the date and time of receipt and the name, rank, title and position of the receiving public officer or employee with the corresponding signature, and a copy thereof furnished to the requesting party. In case the request is submitted by electronic means, the government agency shall provide for an equivalent means by which the requirements of this paragraph shall be met. Each government agency shall establish a system to trace the status of all requests for information received by it.

(d) The request may indicate the requesting party’s preferred mode and means of the receiving the information requested, provided that the mode and means are reasonable, taking into consideration equipment normally available to the concerned government agency. A government agency may communicate the information requested in a form other than the preferred means whenever such preferred means would unreasonably interfere with the effective operation of the agency, or the agency has no capability to communicate the information in the preferred format, or the preferred means would be detrimental to the preservation of the record.
(e) The government agency shall comply with such request as soon as practicable, and in any case within fifteen (15) working days from the receipt thereof: Provided, that where the information requested is shown to be urgently needed for the protection of the life or liberty of a person, the same shall be provided within two (2) working days from the receipt of the request.

(f) The period of fifteen (15) days may be extended whenever the information requested requires a search of the government agency’s field or satellite offices, examination of voluminous records, the occurrence of fortuitous events or other analogous cases. The government agency shall, in writing or through electronic means, notify the person making the request of the extension, setting forth the reasons for such extension and the date when the information shall be made available, which in no case shall result in an extension by more than twenty (20) working days.

(g) If the information is not held by the government agency to which the request was made, it shall notify the requester that it does not hold the information, and indicate to the requester which agency holds the record, if known. Whenever practicable, the agency receiving the request may cause the transfer of the request to the appropriate agency that holds the information: Provided, that the period to comply with the request under this section shall begin to run only upon receipt by the agency to which the request is transferred.

SECTION 10. Processing Fees. — Government agencies may charge a reasonable fee to reimburse the actual cost of reproduction, copying or transcription and the communication of the information requested. An agency may waive the fees whenever it is satisfied that the requester is an indigent, or that the cost of reproduction is negligible, or that it is pursuant to a program for proactive disclosure.

SECTION 11. Notice of Denial. — If the government agency decides to deny the request, in whole or in part, it shall, as soon as practicable and in any case within fifteen (15) working 16 days from the receipt of the request, notify the requester of the denial in writing or through electronic means. The notice shall indicate the name, rank, title or position of the person making the denial, clearly set forth the ground/s and circumstances on which the denial is based, and indicate available rights of reconsideration or appeal.

SECTION 12. Remedies in Cases of Denial. —
(a) In all government agencies other than the judicial branch —
(1) A person whose request for information has been denied may ask for a reconsideration from the same official who originally denied the request, or file an administrative appeal following the procedure mentioned in Section 15 (8) of this Act: Provided, that the administrative appeal must be filed within fifteen (15) calendar days from the receipt of the notice of original denial on reconsideration.

Every notice of denial shall include check-box options of whether the requester will ask for reconsideration or file an administrative appeal. The requester may submit further arguments to strengthen his request.
(2) Instead of appealing, or after the denial of the administrative appeal, the person denied access to information may file a verified appeal with the Office of the Ombudsman, praying that the government agency concerned be directed to immediately afford access to the information being requested. Such Appeal shall be resolved by the Office of the Ombudsman within sixty (60) calendar days from filing, or earlier when time is of the essence based on factors such as the nature of the information requested, the context of the request, or the danger that the information requested will become moot. The Office of the Ombudsman shall promulgate its special rules of procedure for the immediate of Appeals filed pursuant to this Section. Unless restrained or enjoined, the decision of the Office of the Ombudsman shall be immediately executory, without to review in accordance with the Rules of Court.

(3) Instead of filing a Complaint with the Office of the Ombudsman, whenever a request for information is denied originally or on administrative appeal, the requesting party may file a verified petition for mandamus in the proper court, alleging the facts with certainty and praying that judgment be rendered ordering the respondent to disclose the information. The procedure for such petition shall be summary in nature.

Unless restrained or enjoined, the decision of the court shall be immediately executory, without prejudice to review in accordance with the Rules of Court;

(4) In resolving a Complaint or Petition brought under the preceding paragraphs (2) and (3), the Ombudsman or the court is empowered to receive the information subject of a claim of exception under Section 7 herein and examine them in camera to determine the sufficiency of the factual and legal basis of such claim, when such sufficiency cannot be reasonably determined through evidence and circumstances apart from the information.

(b) In the Judicial Branch – The Judiciary shall be governed by such remedies as promulgates by the Supreme Court.

(c) The remedies under this section are without prejudice to any other administrative, civil or criminal action covering the same act.

(d) The remedies available under this Act shall be exempt from the rules on non-exhaustion of administrative remedies and the application of the provisions of Republic Act No. 9285, otherwise known as the Alternative Dispute Resolution Act of 2004.

(e) In case the requesting party has limited or no financial capacity, the Public Attorney’s Office shall be mandated to provide legal assistance to the requester in availing of the remedies provided under this Act.

SECTION 13. Mandatory Disclosure of Information. – (a) In fulfillment of Article XI, Section 17 of the Constitution, the following national officials shall disclose to the public Statement of Assets, Liabilities, and Net Worth (SALN) on an annual basis in their official website:

(18) Loans, grants, development assistance, technical assistance, and programs entered into by a government agency with official bilateral or multilateral agencies, as well as with private aid agencies or institutions; and
(19) Compromise agreements entered into by a government agency with any person or entity.

The register shall contain a brief description of the transaction involved, including but not limited to: the nature and object of the transaction, the parties and amounts involved, the key steps undertaking towards its conclusion, and the relevant dates provided that contracts and agreements involving an amount of at least Fifty Million Pesos (Php 50,000,000.00) shall be uploaded in full on the website of the concerned government. agency or the Official Gazette online. A covered record shall be enrolled in the register not later than thirty (30) working days from its perfection or issuance.

SECTION 14. Capacity-Building, Promotion of Best Practices and Continuous Updating of Appropriate Information Technology and FOI. — All government agencies must ensure that they have a compliant website within two (2) years from the date of effectivity of this Act.

The National Computer shall monitor all government agency websites and render the appropriate support including capacity-building program and coordination with another appropriate agency, utilizing alternative mechanism and seeking the assistance of private relevant and willing volunteer groups to ensure full compliance with the requirements of this Act.

In the performance of its monitoring motion of government websites and portals, the National Computer Center shall endeavor to continuously develop, improve and update its information technology system taking into consideration usability and practical accessibility of government documents by the public.

Every government agency shall ensure the provision of adequate training for its officials to improve awareness of the people’s right to information and the provision of this Act, and to keep update as to best practices in relation to information disclosure, records maintenance and archiving.

SECTION 15. People’s Freedom Information (FOI) Manual. — (a) For the effective implantation of this Act, all government agencies shall prepare and regularly update a People’s Freedom of Information (FOI) Manual, setting forth the following:

1. The location and contract information of the head, regional, provincial and field offices of the agency, and other established places where the public can obtain information or submit requests;
2. The types of information it generates, holds and or publishes;
3. A description of its record-keeping system;
4. The person or office responsible for receiving requests for information;
5. The procedure for the filing of request personally, by mail, or through the identified electronic means;
6. The standard forms for the submission of request and for the proper acknowledgement of the request;
7. The process for the disposition of the request, including the routing of the request to the person or office with the duty to act on the request and the decision-making process for the grant or denial of the request;
8. The procedure for the administrative appeal of any denial for access to information;
9. The schedule of fees;
10. The process and procedure for the mandatory disclosure of information under Section 13 of this Act; and
11. Such other information, taking into consideration the unique characteristics of an agency that will help facilities the effective implementation of this Act.
(b) The People’s FOI Manual shall be posted in the agency website and a hard copy shall be available at the agency reception area for use by the public.

(c) In no case shall the absence of the People’s FOI Manual be a reason for the denial of any request for information made in accordance with this Act.

SECTION 16. Administrative Liability. – The following acts proven to have been committed willfully in an administrative proceeding before the appropriate disciplining authority as provided under existing laws, rules or regulations, shall be subject to the administrative penalty of suspension of six (6) months and one (1) day to one (1) year for the first offense, and dismissal from the service for the second offense:

(1) Failure to promptly forward a request for information to the public officer within the same office or agency responsible for officially acting on the request, when such is the direct cause of the failure to disclose the information within the periods required by this Act;
(2) Failure to act on a request for information within the periods required by this Act;
(3) Denial of a request for information without any valid ground;
(4) Claiming an exception under Section 7 of this Act when the claim is manifestly devoid of factual or legal basis;
(5) Failure to comply with the decision of his immediate supervisor, the Ombudsman, or of any court ordering the release of information;
(6) Approval policies, rules and regulations are the direct cause of the denial of a request for information.

In determining the duration of suspension for the first offense, circumstances that mitigate or aggravate the offense shall be considered. Provided: That this provision is without prejudice to the imposition of a lower penalty applicable under existing administrative laws, or regulation, if the acts are not done willfully.

SECTION 17. Criminal Liability. – (a) The following acts shall be subject to the penalty of imprisonment of not less than one (1) month but not more than six (6) months, with the accessory penalty of dismissal from service:
