EXPLANATORY NOTE

Our country is ravaged year after year by numerous emergencies of all sorts – from natural calamities like lahar flows which devastated most parts of Luzon, volcanic eruptions, earthquakes and typhoons which routinely pummel the country every year, to man-made disasters like the 2013 Zamboanga Siege. This just goes to show that emergencies of one sort or another are a fact of life which will always pose challenges for us as a nation.

The best we can do is to be prepared and to be on the lookout in order to prevent emergencies from intensifying into full-scale disasters. Through this piece of legislation, the undersigned proposes the creation of a permanent, full-time national agency under the Office of the President to help the country plan and prepare for emergencies. It is proposed that this agency take over the National Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Council (NDRRMC) and undertake disaster mitigation and preparedness measure, as well as quick response mechanism, which will allow us to reduce the risk of disasters, mitigate possible damage to life and property, initiate rapid and effective response to disasters, and effectively manage post-disaster recovery.

Hence, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly enjoined

MANUEL DG. CABOCHAN III
