EXPLANATORY NOTE

It is declared policy of the State, according to Section 22, Article II of the 1987 Philippine Constitution that, “The State shall recognize and promote the rights in indigenous cultural communities (ICCs) within the framework of national unity and development.

To accomplish this mandate, R.A. No. 8371, otherwise known as the Indigenous Peoples Rights Act of 1997 (IPRA) was enacted. Section 16 of this law provides that, ICCs/IPs have the right to participate fully, if they so choose, at all levels of decision-making in matters which may affect their rights, lives and destinies through procedures determined by them as well as to maintain and develop their own indigenous political structure. Consequently, the State shall ensure that the ICCs/IPs shall be given mandatory representation in policy-making bodies and other local legislative councils.”

However, despite the existence of the aforementioned provision of IPRA Law, the ICCs/IPs remain underrepresented, particularly in the province of Nueva Vizcaya. Due to this under representation in council or bodies that make decisions about the lives of the IPs, there is a continuous struggle to uphold their already constitutionally-recognized rights. With this reality, the State must be more vigilant in protecting the IPs in our country.

With the view of uplifting the welfare of the IPs, this bill seeks to institutionalize IPs mandatory representation in the province of Nueva Vizcaya. It is hoped that with this bill, the local government unit of Nueva Vizcaya will recognize and provide a representative from the IP sector to their local legislative or Sanggunian. This will ensure a more coordinated effort between the State and the IP sector in guaranteeing the protection of their rights.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
