Republic Act No. 6541 otherwise known as the National Building Code of the Philippines provides for all buildings and structures a framework of minimum standards and requirements by guiding, regulating, and controlling their location, siting, design, quality of materials, construction, use, occupancy, and maintenance, including their environment, utilities, fixtures, equipment, and mechanical electrical, and other systems and installations. This is in fulfillment of the State's duty and responsibility to identify and oversee the methods and/or requirements for the safe construction of all buildings and structures in the country.

A building permit is one basic requirement before one can start with the construction of a building or structure whether for residential, commercial or industrial use. On the other hand, a certificate of occupancy is a certification issued after construction and inspection of the building and/or structure, to attest to the fact that the same is built in accordance with approved standards and the same is ready and safe for occupancy already. It is well-known fact that perennial problems in the tedious and burdensome process of securing building permits as well as certificates of occupancy have inevitably brought about undue delays and has fostered and allowed corruption to persist.

In order to rectify this unfortunate situation, this measure seeks to amend the existing national building code to make the process of securing building permits and certificates of occupancy more efficient and more predictable by putting in place stricter provisions on the time frame for processing and approval thereof and amending the appeals process as well as the imposition of penalties on erring officials.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
