House Bill No. 2769

EXPLANATORY NOTE

During the administration of President Benigno Aquino III the NEDA was directed to study the feasibility and placement of an airport more central in Mindanao so that distances to and from various areas will make more economic sense.

This is very apt because many provinces would principally benefit from the construction of an airport in the center of Mindanao including the provinces comprising the SOCCSKSARGEN region and Bukidnon.

Central Mindanao comprises the provinces of Lanao del Sur, North Cotabato, and Sultan Kudarat as constituent provinces and with the addition of South Cotabato and Sarangani, the region was renamed as SOCCSKSARGEN.

Lanao del Norte’s boundary on the north is Iligan Bay, south is Moro Gulf and Lanao del Sur, northeast is the province of Misamis Oriental and east is Bukidnon. North Cotabato is bound on the north by Lanao del Sur and Bukidnon, on the south by Sultan Kudarat, on the west by Maguindanao and Lanao del Sur. Since it is in a typhoon free area, it good potential for agribusiness and agro-industrial enterprises.

SOCCSKSARGEN has 3 components cities, 1 independent city and 1 highly urbanized city, and these cities are vital to the region’s existence. Cotabato City is the regional center of the ARMM; General Santos City is dubbed as the “Tuna Capital of the Philippines” because of the bountiful existence of Yellow fin Tuna in Sarangani Bay, and it serves as the center of the Metropolitan and the center of trade and industry of SOCCSKARGEN; Kidapawan City is hailed as “A Spring in the Highland”, and is found at the bottom of the majestic Mt. Apo and at the southeastern section of Cotabato province, placed in the middle of three other major cities of Davao, Cotabato, General Santos and Koronadal; Koronadal City is dubbed as the “Sports Mecca of the South” because of the hosting 2 Palarong Pambansa, National Secondary Press Conference and the Mindanao Business Conference and it is the Regional Center of SOCCSKSARGEN; and Tacurong City is the only city of Sultan Kudarat and is famous of its Bird Sanctuary.

The region has extensive coastlines, valleys and mountain ranges. Known for its river system, the region is the catch basin of Mindanao. The system is a rich source of food, potable water and energy production.

Bukidnon is a landlocked province located in the North Central Mindanao. The province borders are Misamis Oriental, Agusan del Sur, Davao del Norte, Cotabato, Lanao del Sur, and Lanao del Norte. It is considered by Filipinos to be the food basket of Mindanao and it is the major producer of rice and corn in the region. Plantations in the province also produce pineapples, bananas and sugarcane. There are no airports and seaports in the province. Bukidnon also hosts American, Chinese, Indonesian, Koreans and British residents who are engaged in business, trade, research, study, tourism and mission work. Aside from colorful cultures and traditions of the province, Bukidnon also boasts gorgeous natural sites and man-made attractions like Asia’s longest Dual Cable Zip-line at the Dahilayan Adventure Park in Manolo Fortich.

It is thus very apparent that this part of Mindanao is very vital to the Philippines, with all its tourist sites, cultural heritage and food production capabilities.

For many of these provinces, the nearest airport is the Laguindingan airport in Misamis Oriental which is considerably far from the center of Mindanao. The airports at Davao City, General Santos and Cotabato are likewise coastal airports and quite far from Mindanao’s central area. It thus becomes difficult for tourists and would be tourists to go to the various tourist sites and attractions that the region has to offer. Also, an airport would makes it easy for farmers and producers of different produces to transport their products to anywhere in the country. An airport would also provide additional business, investment and employment opportunities because the region, given its very strategic location would now be more accessible to nearby countries like and allows it to establish trade relations with Brunei, Indonesia and Malaysia.

The proximity of a new airport to these provinces offers great opportunities for industries in which direct access to either air cargo or passenger flights is of paramount importance. Aside from the fact that airports facilitate commerce, they also serve as economic engines, and their direct, indirect and induced benefits accrue throughout the rest of the community as well.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
