HOUSE BILL NO. 2921

Introduced by Rep. Precious Hipolito Castelo

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Laws related to education largely involve teachers in the public educational system. Republic Act No. 4670, Republic Act No. 5168 and Republic Act No. 6758 are examples of these legislated enactments as they directly affect public school teachers or employees in government.

Likewise, there is a dearth of laws that focus on the tertiary level of education insofar as it concerns the recruitment or qualification requirements for those interested to teach at the college level, either in public or private colleges or universities.

Perhaps, it is high time to push for a uniform set of criteria insofar as the qualification requirements for those who would teach in college are concerned, be it in private colleges or universities. This way, there can be a level playing field amongst college faculty members in terms of their recruitment allowing even some to cross one to the other. For example, a college professor in a private university may also qualify in a state college or university and vice versa.

It is important to prescribe qualifications standards that would in turn determine their position classification for purposes of the salary scale they rightfully deserve, whether they teach in government-funded colleges or universities or those privately-run.

This bill, on purpose, jumps off from the recruitment criteria set forth under Republic Act No. 4670 insofar as Sec. 3 (a), (b), (c) since these concerned only the requirements imposed for teachers who teach at kindergarten and elementary grades, secondary schools, and secondary vocational and two years technical courses. In effect, this bill further breaks up Sec. 3 (d) of said RA but this time totally changing the complexion from public to private to become uniform or both.

Author of this bill has in mind setting the minimum educational or academic qualifications for teacher-applicants at the college or university level given the absence of well-established benchmark. The positive externality that may result from this prospective law is that it may effectively raise the quality of education in both public and private educational systems thereby helping address the problem of so-called 'diploma mills.'
The immediate passage of this bill will benefit all professional teachers in private or state colleges or universities and it shall have an equalizing effect that may be helpful in the government's efforts to provide quality college education for the youth and all college students in general.

Hence, passage of this bill is earnestly prayed for and support from all sectors concerned is highly sought.
