HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 3674

Introduced by Representative ALYSSA SHEENA TAN

EXPLANATORY NOTE

According to the World Health Organization, the estimated maternal mortality ratio per 100,000 live births is 114 in 2015. Various factors are responsible for the high mortality rate issue in the Philippines. The Department of Health identifies complications related to pregnancy occurring in the course of labor, delivery, and puerperium; hypertension complicating pregnancy, childbirth, and puerperium; postpartum hemorrhage; and pregnancy with abortive outcome as main causes of maternal mortality.

In 2016, the Philippine Statistics Authority reported a total of 1,731,289 live births. 91.6% of the total number of births were medically attended, and there are still those who do not have access to the services of trained professionals. Women in remote areas are at a disadvantage and are the ones more prone to suffer birthing complications on account of the lack of access to medical assistance. Considering the high rate of maternal mortality, the need to provide professionals with formal training must be recognized as it is the policy of the State to promote the people's right to health and instill health consciousness among them.

In a statement made by the United Nations Population Fund, the organization highlights midwives as indispensable partners in reducing maternal deaths. They play a significant role in providing essential maternal and newborn health care. Thus, the instant bill mandates every city and municipality in the Philippines to appoint a midwife in each of their respective barangays. The barangay midwives appointed shall ensure that mothers and infants within their area of responsibility are given necessary health care services. In view of these circumstances, and in order to lower the rate of maternal mortality, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
