First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 3906

Introduced by Hon. Rolando “Klarex” A. Uy

EXPLANATORY NOTE

John F. Kennedy once said, “Our progress as a nation can be no swifter than our progress in education. The human mind is our fundamental resource.”

Though education is not included in the three basic needs of a person, we cannot deny the great impact it has on an individual’s life. It not only gives people critical skills to help them better provide for themselves and their children but also an essential tool for people to work better thereby create opportunities for sustainable and viable economic growth. Needless to say, education is critical in reducing poverty and inequality. If all students in low-income communities left school with basic reading skills, millions of people could be lifted out of poverty.

Our constitution provides the protection and promotion of the right to quality education for all people and is committed to make it accessible to everyone, including those in remote areas.

Taglimao National High School – Tumpagon Annex is currently tied with Taglimao National High School. Unfortunately for the hundreds of students in Tumpagon, Taglimao National High School is located a good twenty kilometers from their barangay. The significant distance has been truly unfair to the young students of Tumpagon and expecting them to travel that distance daily is unrealistic, especially in the light of financial difficulties experienced by most Filipino families today.

This bill, then, seeks the separation of Tumpagon National High school from Taglimao National High School. Granting the school its independence is tantamount to eliminating the hurdles in the education of Tumpagon’s youth.

In view thereof, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
