EXPLANATORY NOTE

The State recognises the vital role of everyone towards nation-building, specially those who once dedicated their time, effort and resources to further improve and develop the socio-economic state of our country.

Ninety percent (90%) of our population continues to work hard for a living, the ten percent (10%) is considered to be frail, sickly and immobilised due to old age.

The State is mandated to design programs for social security\(^1\) and promote social justice in all phases of national development\(^2\). Further, the State is mandated to adopt an integrated and comprehensive approach to health development which shall endeavor to make essential goods, health and other social services available to all the people at affordable cost. There shall be priority for the needs of the underprivileged sick, elderly, disabled, women, and children. The State shall endeavor to provide free medical care to paupers\(^3\).

According to the 2018 statement of Commission on Population (POPCOM)\(^4\), there are more than eight million (8,000,000) Filipinos over sixty (60) or about 8.2% of our one hundred one million (101,000,000) estimated total population based on the recent release of the Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) as of July 2019\(^5\).

In 1992, Republic Act No. 7432 was enforced to law in order to recognise the contribution of senior citizens to nation building by granting them benefits and special privileges. In 2004, it was amended to include more non-monetary benefits, tax holidays, among others. In 2010, it was further amended to include the social pension benefit amounting to five hundred pesos (P500) per month to qualified beneficiaries.

Unfortunately, with the increasing value of our basic commodities and the improvement of medicinal requirements among medical institutions for our elders, the above-mentioned Republic Act is no longer attuned to our present socioeconomic state. While there have been numerous efforts to further expand the programs for our seniors, whether through NGOs or other private institutions, there are still so much to be done.

It is the duty of the family to take care of its elderly members while the state is mandated to design programs for social security for them.

Sad as it may sound, 21.6% of our population lives below the national poverty line. In a publication issued by the Philippine Statistics Authority last April 2019, in the first semester of 2018, a family of five needed no less than PhP 7,337, on average, to meet the family’s basic food needs for a month. This amount is the food threshold. On the other hand, no less than PhP 10,481, on average, was needed to meet both basic food and non-food needs of a family of five in a month. This amount is the poverty threshold. These are 10.9 percent higher than the food and poverty thresholds from the first semester of 2015.

This simply shows how inadequate the present social pension is. Filipino families can barely afford their daily subsistence, more so, the wholistic care for our elders as mandate by the Constitution and our conscience.

IN VIEW OF THE FOREGOING, immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
