HOUSE BILL NO. __________

EXPLANATORY NOTE

According to the paper “Nonmotor features in sex-linked dystonia parkinsonism” by Roland Dominic Jamora, Lourdes K. Ledesma, Aloysius Domingo, Alvin Rae F. Cenina, and Lillian V. Lee published in 2014, XDP is an adult-onset, progressive, debilitating movement disorder that manifests with features of dystonia and parkinsonism. It was first described in 1976 as endemic to Filipino males from Panay Island (Philippines).

In a 2011 study, out of the four provinces of Panay Island, 23.7 persons out of every 100,000 of the population in Capiz, 7.7 persons out of every 100,000 of the population in Aklan, 0.8 for every 100,000 of the population in Antique, and 1.4 persons of every 100,000 of the population in Iloilo are affected by XDP.

As of June 2019, there are 251 XDP patients registered with Sunshine Care Foundation in Roxas City Capiz from all over Capiz, Iloilo, Antique, Aklan, Guimaras, and Negros Occidental. The foundation receives seven (7) to ten (10) new patients every month. Other XDP patients have been identified from parts of Luzon and Mindanao. Unfortunately, the exact number of XDP patients remains a challenging object of statistical research because many of those who are afflicted do not avail of basic medical services, or they and their families consider it a shameful curse, if not a malevolent punishment brought by fate.

It bears noting that as XDP progresses, the mental health of the patients is affected. In fact, one out of ten deaths of XDP patients is due to suicide. According to the paper “Suicidality among Patients with Sex-linked Dystonia-Parkinsonism
(XDP)” by Roland Dominic Jamora, Alvin Rae F. Cenina, Rosalia A. Teleg, and Lillian V. Lee published in Acta Medica Philippina in 2015: “One possible reason why suicide is prevalent in XDP patients is the nature of the disease. The diagnosis of XDP can be a family burden because of its genetic basis and the disfigurement it produces. This may lead the patient to withdraw or be abandoned, or hidden from others, leading to poor treatment and less than ideal living conditions. In addition, patients who have relatives with the same condition are very much aware of this situation. These patients may be more vulnerable to depression and suicide after observing the disease and its effects on their relatives.”

Families of XDP patients inevitably face financial pressures since the estimated cost in the management of XDP is shown to be thirty (30) times the average annual health expenditure of an average Filipino, according to the study “Cost-Analysis of the Different Treatment Modalities in XDP” by Ranhel C. De Roxas and Roland Dominic Jamora published in Frontiers in Neurology on May 8, 2019. As such, available long-term treatments for XDP such as Deep Brain Stimulation is out of reach of the common people who have lost employment due to XDP.

This bill seeks separate and special funding for the establishment of the XDP CENTER OF THE PHILIPPINES TO SPEARHEAD RESEARCH AND PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO PATIENTS OF XDP being a movement disorder unique to Filipinos for reasons still unknown due to limited research. The Center shall serve as a database for all XDP patients around the country for their proper monitoring and treatment and for the coordination of all research conducted to find a cure for XDP.

Although the figures cited seem to reveal that the number of people afflicted by the disorder is much smaller compared with that of more widespread and more familiar diseases and ailments, a significant pro-active step is to arrest the spread of the condition, and address it with more lasting treatments made available as early as possible to Filipinos diagnosed with XDP.

It is unfortunate that there have been no government efforts to study XDP’s cause and find its cure. Rather, a private institution in the country and private institutions abroad are the ones conducting and leading the research without the Philippine government’s support.

Moreover, although the Philippine Health Insurance Corporation (Philhealth) is improving on its benefit schemes for a defined set of services for a predetermined rate and is currently making great efforts to subsidize the needs of Filipinos, a number of diseases such as XDP are not covered by Philhealth; even Republic Act 10747 or the “Rare Disease Act of the Philippines” does not answer the needs of XDP patients.

XDP being a genetic disease attributed by studies to the Filipino race, particularly those who have roots from the Panay Visayas islands, efforts to find a cure for it deserve all the government support. Finding a cure for XDP is tantamount to bringing back to life the XDP patients, many of whom prior to the deterioration of their health, were productive, skillful, hardworking, and creative citizens of the country.
In view of all the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
