HOUSE BILL NO. 4904

Introduced by Hon. John Marvin "Yul Servo" C. Nieto

Explanatory Note

As a manifestation of support to this culturally-sensitive and timely piece of legislation, this representation respectfully re-files this bill, which has constantly been receiving support from the past and present congress, as filed by various representatives.

Republic Act 8371, otherwise known as the Indigenous Peoples’ Rights Act of 1997 (IPRA) was a landmark legislation intended to address the concerns of the Cultural Communities and Indigenous Peoples throughout the country. Under Section 64 of the said legislation, the National Commission on Indigenous Peoples (NCIP) is mandated to take appropriate actions to recover legal domains which were illegally acquired.

However, due to the misgivings of the NCIP and the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) in formulating a specific Implementing Rules and Regulations (IRR) to achieve the goals identified under Section 64 of RA 8371, the option to recover legal domains which were illegally acquired was not provided to the indigenous peoples. Moreover, the 20-year period to exercise this option expires this year.

Moreover, the NCIP was given two (2) years to perform such function as provided for under Section 64 but the prescribed period already expired on 22 November 1999.

This bill seeks to remedy this unfortunate situation and to finally give our indigenous brother and sisters the opportunity to own the land they till and acquire a better chance to improve their lot. Aside from empowering them, this would also allow them to seek financial and technical assistance to improve their production.

Hence, it is hereby proposed that the NCIP be granted a new twenty (20) year period to perform the same task as provided under Sec. 64 of the Indigenous Peoples’ Rights Act of 1997.

In view of the foregoing considerations, immediate approval of this measure is sought.
