AN ACT CREATING THE DEPARTMENT OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION AND SKILLS DEVELOPMENT, DEFINING ITS POWERS AND FUNCTIONS, REPEALING REPUBLIC ACT NO. 7796, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS THE TESDA
ACT OF 1994, AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREOF

Explanatory Note

It has been twenty-five (25) years since the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA) was created by virtue of Republic Act 7796. It is the government agency tasked to manage and supervise technical education and skills development (TESD) in the Philippines. It replaced and absorb the National Manpower and Youth Council (NMYC), the Bureau of Technical and Vocational Education (BTVE) and the personnel and functions pertaining to technical-vocational education in the regional offices of the Department of Education, Culture and Sports (DECS), and the apprenticeship program of the Bureau of Local Employment of the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE).

With the changing times, there is a need for government to adapt. Since TESDA manages and implements technical vocational education and training (TVET) programs, it also has to keep up with the demands of different industries. Earlier this year, TESDA prompted to increase its budget appropriation. With this, TESDA Director-General Isidro Lapena argued that "you cannot give a job or a livelihood without going through training." TESDA's mandate is relevant since skills and training are essential to the workforce. To properly support such relevant activities, there is a need to revamp the system. By elevating the authority into a department, average budgetary support, personnel, and resources will be provided to further develop the projects and programs of TESDA.

This measure seeks to repeal R.A. 7796 or the TESDA Act of 1994 and transitions the authority into a department to strengthen the powers and organizational function of TESDA. The proposed department shall be the primary policy formulation, planning, coordinating, implementing, regulating, and administrative entity of the government for technical education and training and certification policies, plans and programs. It shall be headed by a Secretary, four (4) Undersecretaries and four (4) Assistant Secretaries. The department shall also have Bureaus, Service Offices, and Regional/Provincial/District Offices. The proposed department shall absorb and enhance existing Technical Education and Training Centers and establish a network of national, regional and local technical education, and skills development centers.
Despite the abolishment of TESDA, all personnel and resources shall be transferred to the proposed department. It shall undergo reorganization under Republic Act No. 6656, otherwise known as the Reorganization Law. TESDA's personnel shall continue to perform their respective duties and responsibilities and receive their corresponding salaries and benefits until such time when the organizational structure of the proposed department has been approved. It is seen that the functions and capacity of TESDA will be enhanced once it becomes a separate agency. Power and resources shall be centralized and a better form of jurisdiction shall take place.

It is the duty of the state to provide access to relevant opportunities to the country's workforce through technical education and skills development. To be globally competitive and labor efficient, there is a need to centralize all efforts and resources to manage and develop the country's labor force. To this end, the state shall pursue a policy creating the Department of Technical Education and Skills Development, defining its powers and functions, repealing Republic Act No. 7796, otherwise known as the TESDA Act of 1994, and appropriating funds thereof.

The passage of this measure is earnestly sought.
