EXPLANATORY NOTE

In a survey conducted by the Philippine Statistics Authority, the Philippines has an employment rate of 94.6 percent as of July 2018, from ages fifteen (15) years old and above. 32 percent of this total percentage are part time workers while .05 percent are working at home. 17.4 percent of the total employed, however, are considered to fall within the underemployed bracket. The unemployment rate on the other hand was recorded at 5.4 percent or 2.3 million. Across educational groups, 28.2 percent of the total unemployed were high school graduates, 9.2 percent were post-secondary graduates, 14.3 percent were college undergraduates, and 22.1 percent were college graduates.

Given the aftermath of the government's strict enforcement of anti-contractualization rules and the rising number of college graduates year on year, many find themselves without jobs and unable to find work. As a result, most workers accept employment opportunities that do not match their skills and skill sets. Hence, it is imperative to adopt a matching skills approach that will provide workers the necessary skills needed in the labor market.

This bill introduces a matching skills approach to employment. It seeks to provide for a Labor Empowerment Assistance Program (LEAP) that is linked to TESDA skills training programs for employees who are in-between jobs. It ensures that financial assistance and training required to reduce the gap between knowledge in the educational system or previous employment, on one hand, and the actual demand of skills, on the other, are readily available and accessible to interested workers. This approach will provide long term benefits on one's employability and adaptability.

In view of the foregoing, its immediate passage is earnestly sought.
