AN ACT
PROVIDING FOR A HIGHER SALARY GRADE LEVEL AND GRANTING RETIREMENT BENEFITS TO ALL PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS AND PROVIDING FUNDS THEREFOR

Explanatory Note

“Ang Kabataan ang Pag-asang Bayan.” This adage still rings true today. The youth are the hope of the nation. And it is our teachers who mold our youth to be the hope of our nation.

Public school teachers are among the most underpaid workers in government, given their workload, responsibilities, and role in the society. Despite the fact that they are heralded as molders of our children’s future and second parents to our children, public school teachers receive a basic salary that does not equate to their contribution. Our teachers are considered to be the heart of the educational system. Hence, the government needs to give priority to their welfare and interests.

We have about 800,000 public school teachers but the low salaries that they receive have been a major disincentive for them to improve their skills in teaching and pursue further education and training. It is also a predicament that our public schools have failed to attract the best and the brightest graduates from the top colleges and universities because of low salary levels, preventing our public education system from benefiting from the knowledge and expertise of outstanding teachers. Especially with the implementation of the K-12 law, having inspired and capable teachers is probably one of the best investments our government could make.

Our 1987 Constitution no less recognizes the importance of education and our teachers. Section 5 (5), Article XIV of the 1987 Constitution provides that “[t]he State shall assign the highest budgetary priority to education and ensure that teaching will attract and retain its rightful share of the best available talents through adequate remuneration and other means of job satisfaction and fulfillment.” Despite such recognition, the profession remains to be one of the lowest paid sectors in the country. Considering that educators perform a crucial role in nation-building, they must receive adequate remuneration and incentives in exchange to the value of service they render.
Thus, this bill seeks to increase the minimum salary grade level of all public school teachers. In addition, this also grants adequate retirement benefits to qualified teachers. These are simple measures aimed at providing a more conducive work atmosphere and living condition for those who choose to practice this noble profession.
