EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 5402

Introduced by REP. JOHNNY T. PIMENTEL

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Barangay officials, personnel and volunteer workers stand in the forefront of the delivery of basic services for the smallest government unit of the nation. They are placed in the grass-roots of the community to offer the most accessible public service. They serve as the backbone of the nation, especially in the conveyance of public interventions to the most remote areas of the country. However, their own circumstance requires attention as regards to their benefits and compensation that they receive from services rendered.

This Bill seeks to remedy such predicament. The Bill imposes a more comprehensive set of grants for the benefits, subsidy and compensation of the barangay officials, personnel and volunteers. It imposes a minimum and maximum salary rate to which they are entitled to. It also requires that these public servants be subject to the coverage of GSIS social insurance program, PhilHealth Insurance Program, and PagIBIG Fund. Hazard Allowance, as well as Death and Burial Benefits, are also granted to the barangay public servants. This measure also requires that a preferential treatment in government appointments for barangay officers and their conferment of civil service eligibility.

For our barangay officers who work tirelessly for our communities, the passage of this Bill is earnestly sought.
