AN ACT
ALLOWING THE FOREIGN DECREED OF DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE TO BE REGISTERED WITH THE PHILIPPINE CIVIL REGISTRY EVEN IN THE ABSENCE OF A JUDICIAL RECOGNITION TO THAT EFFECT, AMENDING FOR THE PURPOSE EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 209, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS THE FAMILY CODE OF THE PHILIPPINES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Articles 13 and 26 of Executive Order No. 209, otherwise known as the Family Code of the Philippines, provide that if a Filipino citizen who marries a foreign spouse is divorced by his/her spouse, he/she may only re-marry if the foreign spouse is capititated to re-marry. In addition, the law requires the Filipino spouse to first seek a judicial recognition for the enforcement of the foreign decree of dissolution of marriage obtained by the foreign spouse.

While the aforesaid provisions allow the Filipino spouse to re-marry, his or her capacity to do so is still conditioned to the issuance of a judicial order acknowledging the foreign judgment of the dissolution of marriage. Thus, there is still a need for the Filipino spouse to undergo the tedious, expensive and time-consuming process of filing a petition before the court before he or she could remarry.

It was noted by the Philippine Statistics Authority that NINETY ONE PERCENT (91%) of the spouses of foreign nationals are women, and that most of them are still considered to have been validly married with their foreign spouses notwithstanding the fact that a foreign decree of dissolution of marriage was already issued because of their failure to obtain a judicial order for its enforcement.

This bill, which was passed on third reading in the House of Representatives but failed to pass in the Senate during the 17th Congress, seeks to eliminate this undue prejudice against our own citizens by capacitating them to re-marry upon acquisition of a foreign judicial decree of foreign divorce duly authenticated by the Philippine consul in the country where the decree was obtained and the subsequent registration of the decree by the civil registrar without the need for judicial recognition or enforcement.

It is for these reasons that the urgent passage of the bill is recommended.
