EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 5597

EXPLANATORY NOTE

As a manifestation of support to this timely piece of legislation, this representation respectfully refiles this bill, which has constantly been receiving support from the past and present congress.

Republic Act No. 9266, or better known as the Architecture Act of 2004, is a significant legislation that aims to protect the profession of Architecture in the country. The law mandates that architectural services should only be provided by qualified professionals. However, despite the enactment of this law, there is still room for further improvement in order to protect and empower our architects.

The proposed measure seeks to strengthen the architecture profession by amending the provisions of the Architecture Act of 2004 or Republic Act 9266. The inclusion of new specific terms with corresponding definitions will greatly help the practice of architecture in distinguishing them from other professions. This amendment will also mandate the requirement of the signature of an Architect on architectural designs, plans and documents before any building permit may be issued.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this measure is earnestly sought.
