AN ACT
GRANTING ADDITIONAL BENEFITS TO SOLO PARENTS AMENDING FOR THE PURPOSE REPUBLIC ACT NO. 8972, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS THE “SOLO PARENTS WELFARE ACT OF 2000”

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article II, Section 12 of the 1987 Constitution states that “The natural and primary right and duty of the parents in the rearing of the youth for civic efficiency and the development of moral character shall receive the support of the Government.”

As defined, a solo parent is an individual who assumes the sole responsibility of raising a child or children. In the Philippines, they account to at least 14 to 15 percent or about 15 million of the total population, in which 95 percent are women.

The Government’s effort to assist single parents was solidified under the Solo Parents’ Welfare Act of 2000, wherein comprehensive benefit packages including tax breaks, parental leave, housing benefits, and health and education insurance for them were institutionalized. However, upon consultations of this Representation with the sector, it is deemed necessary to amend the law to make it more responsive to the current situation of solo parents.
This Bill seeks to strengthen the Solo Parents’ Welfare Act by decreasing the waiting period from one year to six months before a solo parent can avail of the stated benefits. It also considers their vulnerability and economic limitations, providing them with grants in the form of discounts on children’s clothing, infant formula, vitamins, and medicines.

Furthermore, the Bill includes penalties for non-compliance to the amended law and the inclusion of budget appropriation for its implementation.

The quality of parenting does not depend on the presence or absence of a father or a mother. It will be determined on the holistic development of the youth and the Filipino family. Therefore, the State must exert all efforts to lend a helping hand to the solo parents.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this Bill is sought.
