COVID-19 was declared by the World Health Organization as a public health emergency of international concern as early as January 30, 2020. As of 4:00 PM of March 21, 2020, a total of 307 patients in the Philippines have been confirmed positive with COVID-19. as of midnight of March 17, 2020. However, even while most people are advised to stay home, workers in critical industries, such as health care workers, airport personnel, grocery store staff, among others, continue to report to work to provide essential services to those in need. But despite the increased risk to their lives, no appropriate additional compensation is given to them.

This bill seeks to recognize the hard work and the invaluable service rendered by these workers in critical industries by mandating that they are given hazard pay for the duration of a state of calamity, emergency or public health emergency, such as the COVID-19 pandemic. The hazard pay shall be equivalent to at least 25% of the basic salary of the affected worker. Workers in critical industries refer to workers in establishments, such as hospitals, sanitaria, rural health units, main health centers, health infirmaries, barangay health stations, clinics, laboratories, and other health-related establishments, banks and other financial institutions providing money transfer services, groceries, supermarket, and convenience stores, logistics and warehouse establishments, and civil-aviation related companies, among others, who are exposed greater danger, contagion, radiation, virus, disease, or peril from natural calamities, such as volcanic activity/eruption and typhoons.

Given the extraordinary and invaluable service of these workers in critical times, such as what we are facing today with the COVID-19 pandemic, it is just and right that we give them proper benefits.

Thus, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
