EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS

Second Regular Session

House Bill No. 7198

Introduced by HON. ALETA C. SUAREZ

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Our agricultural sector faces an emerging crisis—the aging population of farmers. From the National Economic Development Authority’s estimated average age of 40 years in 2017\(^1\), the Department of Agriculture reported that the average age of farmers has increased to 57 years in 2019\(^2\). As the population of farmers gets older, there is also a significant decrease in the agricultural workforce in the past years. A report from the National Economic Development Authority, cited in a news article in November 2019\(^3\), stated that the agricultural workforce in the country is at 9.07 million in 2017. This is 25 percent lower from the 12.25 million agricultural workers in 2010. These issues pose an alarming concern over the agricultural industry to which we rely on so much for our food, basic commodities, and economic growth.

Hence, this bill is filed to encourage and protect our young farmers who are eager to venture on the agricultural industry. This bill adapted the version of Senator

\(^2\) Cudia, Christine. 13 November 2019. DA urges youth to take up farming. Philippine News Agency. Retrieved from https://www.pna.gov.ph/articles/10859188--text-%E2%80%9CThe%20average%20age%20of%20farmers%20is%2070%20interested%20in%20agriculture%20-%E2%80%9D

Ramon Revilla Jr., filed during the First Regular Session of this Congress. At present, the Department of Agriculture offers entrepreneurial programs and assistance for the youth on agriculture, while local government units continue to provide necessary support and trainings to farmers, both young and old. To complement these programs, the Magna Carta for Young Farmers bill aims to provide a policy framework for the developmental and support programs for our young farmers. This bill aims to engage government agencies to provide capacity-building programs, credit and capital assistance, and technological support, with the end goal of increasing the participation of the younger population in agricultural development and food security of the country.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought.

House Bill No. 7198

Introduced by HON. ALETA C. SUAREZ

AN ACT

PROVIDING FOR THE MAGNA CARTA OF YOUNG FARMERS

Be it enacted in the Senate and House of Representatives of the Philippines in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. Short Title. – This Act shall be known as the “Magna Carta for Young Farmers Act”.

SECTION 2. Declaration of Policy. – The following are hereby declared policies of the State:

a. The State hereby declares “Young Farmers” as an individual whose primary source of income comes from agriculture, with an age range of 15 to 35 years old, is owner, worker, or tenant or lessee of the land in which they personally cultivate and till;

b. The State recognizes young farmers as a separate basic sector with its own distinct rights and responsibilities;

c. The State recognizes young farmers as supplemental income earners in the family farms playing a major role in augmenting their family’s proceeds. Doing so entails working odd jobs to sustain the family’s source of income, most especially in non-harvesting seasons;

d. The State acknowledges the invaluable role of young farmers who are present in the value chain process starting from production, to processing, to value-adding up to marketing;

e. The State recognizes the role of young farmers as eco-warriors and staunch advocates of environmental protection; and,

f. The State recognizes the indispensable contribution of young farmers to the overall food security and national economy.

Towards this end, the State shall establish mechanisms for the promotion and protection of young farmers’ rights that will ensure their empowerment, productivity, and competitiveness in the local and international trade.

SECTION 3. Definition of Terms. – As used in this Act, the following terms are defined as follows:

a. “Agriculture” refers to farming in all of its branches and the cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairying, the production, cultivation, growing and harvesting of any agricultural, aquacultural, floricultural or horticultural commodities, the growing and harvesting of forest products upon forest lands, the raising of livestock including horses, the keeping of horses as a commercial enterprise, the keeping and raising of poultry, swine, cattle and other domesticated animals used for food purposes and any forestry or lumbering operations, performed by a farmer;

b. “All around farm workers” refers to all types of work in the farm, performed by an individual or a group of people, which is oftentimes assigned to more laborious tasks such as harvesting, plowing, planting, application of fertilizers and farm supervision;

c. “Discrimination” refers to any distinction, exclusion or restriction which has the effect or purpose of impairing or nullifying the recognition, enjoyment or exercise by young farmers, irrespective of their age, status of income, on a basis of equality, human rights and fundamental freedoms in the political, economic, social, cultural, civil, or any other field. It includes any act or omission, including by law, policy, administrative measure, or practice, that directly or indirectly excludes or restricts young farmers in the recognition and promotion of their rights and their access to and enjoyment of opportunities, benefits, or privileges.
A measure or practice of general application is discrimination against young farmers if it fails to provide for mechanism to offset or address disadvantages or limitations of young farmers, as a result of which they are denied or restricted in the recognition and protection of their rights and in their access to and enjoyment of opportunities, benefits, or privileges; Provided, That discrimination compounded by or intersecting with other grounds, status, or condition, such as etnicity, age, poverty, or religion shall be considered discrimination against young farmers under this Act;

d. “Eco-warriors” refers to the staunch advocates of environmental protection and practitioners of sustainable farming;

e. “Food security” refers to the condition in which all people, at all times, have physical, social, and economic access to sufficient safe and nutritious food that meets their dietary needs and food preferences for an active and healthy life (as defined by the United Nations Committee on World Food Security);

f. “Family Farming” is a means of organizing agricultural, forestry, fisheries, pastoral and aquaculture production which is managed and operated by a family and predominantly reliant on family labor, including both women and men;

g. “Lessee” refers to a person who, by themselves, or with the aid available from within their immediate farm household, cultivates the land, belonging to or lawfully possessed by another, with the latter’s consent, for purposes of agricultural production, for a price certain in money or in produce or both. The term is distinguished from a civil lessee as understood in the Civil Code of the Philippines;

h. “Organic” refers to the particular farming and processing system, described in the standards and not in the classical chemical sense. The term “organic” is synonymous in other languages to “biological” or “ecological”. It is also a labeling term that denoted products considered organic based on the Philippine National Standards for organic agriculture;

i. “Organic Agriculture” refers to all agricultural systems that promote the ecologically sound, socially acceptable, economically viable and technically feasible production of food and fibers. Organic agriculture dramatically reduces external inputs by refraining from the use of chemical fertilizers, pesticides and pharmaceuticals. It also covers areas such as, but not limited to, soil fertility management, varietal breeding and selection under chemical and pesticide-free conditions, the use of biotechnology and other cultural practices that are consistent with the principles and policies of this Act, and enhance productivity without destroying the soil and harming farmers, consumers and the environment as defined by the International Federation of Organic Agricultural Movement (IFOAM): Provided, That the biotechnology herein referred to shall not include genetically modified organisms of GMO;

j. "Sustainability" refers to meeting the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs as defined by the United Nations World Commission on Environment and Development;

k. "Tenant" refers to a person who, themselves, or with the aid available from within their immediate farm household, cultivates the land belonging to, or possessed by another, with the latter's consent for purposes of production, sharing the produce with the landholder under the share tenancy system, or paying the landholder a price certain or ascertainable in produce or in money or both, under the leasehold tenancy system;

l. "Young Farmers" refers to an individual whose primary source of income comes from agriculture, with an age range of 15 to 35 years old, is owner, tenant, lessee or worker of the land in which they personally cultivate and till.

SECTION 4. State as Primary Duty Bearer. – The State as the primary duty bearer:

a. Recognize and promote the rights of young farmers defined and guaranteed under this Act;

b. Lead against the discrimination and coercion or violence, be in physical, verbal, sexual, emotional, psychological, spiritual or cultural in nature of young farmers;

c. Endorse farm products produced by young farmers for economic development nationwide;

d. Promote and fulfill the rights of young farmers in all aspects including but not limited to their rights to food security, education and training, and access to land.

The State shall take measures and establish mechanisms to promote the coherent and integrated implementation and enforcement of this Act and related laws, policies, or other measures to effectively recognize young farmers as a distinct basic sector, stop discrimination against young farmers and farming in general, and advance their rights and responsibilities.

SECTION 5. Duties of State Agencies and Instrumentalities. – The above-mentioned duties of the State shall extend to all agencies, offices, and instrumentalities at all levels and government-owned and controlled corporations, subject to the Constitution and pertinent laws, policies, or administrative guidelines that define specific duties of state agencies and entities concerned.

SECTION 6. Duties of Private Sector. – It is the duty of the private sector to support young farmers’ agenda through social partnerships between people’s organizations and industries. Private sectors are encouraged to assist in land reform mechanisms and rural development initiatives which include livelihood strategies, sensitive to the plight of young farmers, as part of their corporate social responsibility duties.
