Vilma Santos-Recto (6 th district, Batangas), directed the Secretariat to prepare the substitute bill, incorporating therein the recommendations of the Department of Agriculture (DA), Professional Regulation Commission (PRC), and Philippine Association of Food Technologists, Inc. (PAFT). |
| | HB 2726 | Rep. Alejano | Providing for the registration, licensure and practice of food technology in the Philippines and providing funds therefor | Rep. Evelina Escudero (1 st District, Sorsogon), author of HB 2310, informed the Committee that her bill contains the same provisions as the bill approved during the 16 th Congress and that the Senate has just approved a similar bill, SB 1269 or the Food Technology Act of 2017, authored by Senator Antonio "Sonny" Trillanes. Dr. Lara Navarro, head of the Standards Development Division of the DA's Bureau of Agriculture and Fisheries Standards, and Dr. Maria Leonora Francisco, PAFT president, interposed no objection to the passage of the proposed law. |

France Castro (Party-List, ACT TEACHERS), to deliberate further on the 13 bills. Jennifer Timbol, Director III of the Human Resource Policies and Standards Office, Civil Service Commission (CSC), said that the CSC opposes the grant of civil service eligibility to government employees on the basis of the number of years they served in government. Timbol also explained that the grant of civil service eligibility does not equate to security of tenure as what the bills suggest. She surmised that the problem might be the lack of plantilla positions that would accommodate contractual or temporary employees. |
| | HB 3465 | Rep. Roman | Mandating all government agencies, offices and instrumentalities to evaluate and consider qualified contractual workers for appointment to permanent positions | However, Department of Budget and Management (DBM) Director Ryan Lita said that the thrust of the government is towards "rightsizing," which will involve abolishing unnecessary positions in the government and |

Currently, Lita said, there are at least 200,000 unfilled positions in the government. Rep. Estrellita Suansing (1st District, Nueva Ecija) asked the CSC why it opposes the grant of eligibility to government employees when in fact it grants eligibility to barangay officials. Timbol said that the grant of eligibility to barangay officials is an act of goodwill by the government for the “voluntary services” rendered by barangay officials to the community. The CSC grants Barangay Official Eligibility (BOE) to barangay officials who have rendered at least one term of office in one barangay pursuant to CSC Memorandum Circular No. 13 series of 2012. Said eligibility is equivalent to a career service subprofessional eligibility suitable for first level positions in the government. COURAGE National President Ferdinand Gaité asserted that the grant of civil service eligibility should also be extended to employees whose appointments are based on memorandum of agreement, contract, or job order. Employees association and union groups, namely, Public Services Labor Independent Confederation (PSLINK), Philippine Government Employees Association (PGEA), and the Confederation of Independent Unions in the Public Sector (CIU), manifested their support for the proposed measures. The resource persons present were requested to submit their position papers on the bills. |

Gus Tambunting (2nd District, Parañaque City), said that his bill, HB 4328, seeks to shorten the effectivity of the collective bargaining agreement (CBA) from five to three years. He added that under the proposed law, workers will have the opportunity to choose their rightful bargaining representative and negotiate with the employers the most beneficial terms and conditions of work at a fixed limited period of time. However, representatives from the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), People Management Association of the Philippines (PMAP), and Employers Confederation of the Philippines (ECOP) prefer to maintain the existing five-year duration of the CBA, arguing that shortening the period may cause work disruption. |

The program is anchored on the government's goal of reducing poverty, ensuring food security, conserving the environment and biodiversity, and enhancing climate change mitigation and adaptation. From 2011 to 2013, Calderon reported that nearly 400 million seedlings were planted in over 600,000 hectares of land nationwide, recording about 46% accomplishment. By end of 2015, about 1.4 million hectares of land have been planted under the NGP. Calderon said another executive order, EO 193, was issued in November 2015 expanding the coverage of the NGP and extending its implementation from 2016 to 2028. Asked by ABANG LINGKOD Party-List Rep. On the other hand, the Commission on Audit (COA) was requested to provide the Committee a copy of its audit findings relative to the NGP's implementation. |

Rozzano Rufino Biazon said that during his term as Bureau of Customs (BOC) commissioner, interconnectivity among government agencies was established through the National Single Window (NSW) System, but was stopped when he left the BOC. Under the NSW, government agencies like the BOC issues e-permits/clearances under a fast and highly secured environment, which lowers regulatory costs, improves revenue collection, and prevents fraud associated with manual filing, processing and issuance of permits or clearances. National Tax Research Center (NTRC) Executive Director Trinidad Rodriguez explained that the NSW system was stopped because of the incompatibility of the systems being used by the |

Rep. Bertiz, author of HB 192, explained that the proposal to create a Department of Migration and Development is a product of several consultations made with stakeholders. The aim is to reintegrate the migration and development agenda of the government with the skills and potentials of all overseas Filipinos, not just overseas Filipino workers (OFWs), and utilize them in building the nation. Rep. Bertiz lamented the concerted effort of the executive department to oppose the proposed measures without any recommendation. He was referring to the unified position paper submitted by the executive department objecting to the creation of a new department for OFWs. Representatives from the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA), Philippine Overseas Employment Administration (POEA), and the Overseas Workers Welfare Administration (OWWA) present during the meeting affirmed their respective offices' objection to create another department that will cater to the needs of OFWs.
