EXPLANATORY NOTE

As part of the government's effort to reform the health sector, privatization of government hospitals has been endorsed ostensibly due to the rising cost of maintenance and operational expenses. One argument in favor of privatization is that it will allow investors to infuse additional capital to modernize and upgrade the facilities and equipment of these government hospitals, more particularly the specialized hospitals such as the Philippine Heart Center and the National Kidney and Transplant Institute.

While it is true that the government is experiencing difficulty in infusing the much-needed funds to continually upgrade and acquire sophisticated and advanced medical equipment, it is a reality that majority of the people rely on these government hospitals for their medical and health needs.

It is almost certain that corresponding increase in medical costs will ensue once the privatization of government hospitals is pursued. Some people cannot even afford adequate shelter, food, clothing, and education. Worst, accessible and affordable health care services will be beyond their reach.

The Constitution mandates that health services shall be available to all people at affordable cost. It is in this light that this measure seeks to prohibit the privatization of government hospitals to ensure and guarantee that health care services are affordable and accessible to all Filipino people.

The early passage of this proposed measure is highly recommended.
